

Probation

In studies conducted by Orange County Probation, this group of juvenile offenders was identified as being at the greatest risk of becoming repeat offenders.

Findings of these studies revealed that a small proportion (8%) of juvenile offenders accounted for over half of the recidivism.